

A top-down view of a wooden desk with a typewriter, a camera, a cup of coffee, and various writing tools. The typewriter is black with a grid of keys. To its left is a silver camera on a green textured surface. To its right is a white cup of coffee on a saucer with a blue swirl pattern. In the foreground, there are several pieces of paper, a pen, and a small wooden block with numbers. The background features a small vase with white flowers and another with red roses.

Czech Literature in European Context:
- Milan Kundera among Serbian Readers -
- Milan Kundera and Danilo Kiš -

PhD Mirjana Lukić, Assistant Professor,
Faculty of Philosophy,
University of East Sarajevo